Volunteer with Medical Teams International

Volunteer abroad in a community where local health systems are overwhelmed or non-existent. Our international medical volunteers care for the whole person — physical, emotional, and social. Together, we build and strengthen health systems so that they will thrive when we’re gone.

Are you a medical professional with a heart for refugees, women & children, and survivors of natural & man-made disasters? Medical Teams International seeks medically-licensed volunteers for our Global Programs and Humanitarian Response Roster to bring basic but life-saving medical care and to restore wholeness in a hurting world.

In Their Own Words: Since coming alongside Medical Teams, Dr. Paul Neumann has been deployed five times, from Somalia to Uganda to Lebanon. After the 7.8-magnitude earthquake in Nepal, Dr. Neumann helped assess health systems, attend patients, and devise future plans for work in the country. His most memorable moment was when - after helping her sick child - a woman said it had been the first time anyone had done anything for her. The first time anyone had done...anything. These words remind Dr. Neumann that he’s not just a volunteer, but also an ambassador of compassion. His advice to other volunteers: "just do it...it takes time, but it’s worth it."

CURRENT OPPORTUNITIES
Bangladesh: responding to the Rohingya Refugee Crisis, our volunteers assist with capacity building of local practitioners in the Kutapalong Refugee Camp
Humanitarian Response Team: our HRT deploys on short notice to provide rapid and coordinated responses to natural and man-made emergencies

SPECIALTIES NEEDED
Family Practice Physicians, Pediatricians, OB/GYNs, Nurse Practitioners, Physicians Assistants, Nurse Midwives, RNs

QUALIFICATIONS
Current license to practice
Previous international medical experience
Ability to travel internationally for up to 8 weeks
Mentoring and training experience
In good physical health
Flexible and compassionate team member

For Humanitarian Response Volunteers:
Ability to deploy within 24-72 hours of notice
Successful completion of our Hostile Environment Awareness Training & Humanitarian Principles (HEAT+) Course

For more information on our volunteer opportunities and on how to apply, visit: https://www.medicalteams.org/volunteer/